This list of 182 species was compiled by Jim Royer in September, 2012. Please report preserve sightings of additional species to Jim Royer at jrmotmot@gmail.com . The Fiscalini Ranch Preserve is on land where indigenous Chumash and Salinan people lived. European Americans cleared most of this once forested property for grazing. It was purchased by the Fiscalinis in the late 1800s. In 2000, public and private funds preserved the 430 acre preserve, and adjacent parcels, in perpetuity. The Friends of the Fiscalini Ranch Preserve protects and restores this preserve. Information on the preserve, field trips and joining FFRP is online at: <http://www.ffrpcambria.org/> .
